Grants

Please find attached the draft Funding Strategy for the eight (8) projects identified by the City. Over 35 funding sources were identified as good fits for the projects which is great news. As discussed previously, parking garages and road projects are the most challenging to fund. They are still completing further research on those that will be incorporated in the final version along with the City's comments. They will be here on May 31 to provide an update.

All levels of fitness are encouraged to participate! Officer Arndt has secured some really great trophies and medals for the winners and there will be t-shirts for the next 30 people who register by Sunday at midnight. Directly following the race will be the Powder Springs Business Group's SpringsFest from 11-3pm. They will have food, vendors, artists, live entertainment, and kids activities. So plan on sticking around for more fun!

Vineyards

There is a small homebuilder interested in building in the Vineyards. Staff met with them and asked them to put together a proposal/layout for design review and encouraged them to speak with the homeowners. The houses would be be smaller, but they are all basement lots. We are not sure yet how it will blend and complement the existing homes, but staff indicates that it may be good to have more of a custom builder rather than the mass production builders we normally get.

Screen is finally installed.

Pick It Up

We had another successful Pick It Up on Saturday, April 22. Students from McEachern, Tapp and Compton Elementary were star performers with approximately 125 students cleaning along Macedonia, New Macland, Forest Hill, Sailors Parkway, Old Villa Rica, Glenn and Old Lost Mountain. Council Member Hudson, Keep Powder Springs Beautiful members, Troop 723, city staff and city residents also contributed to the efforts and collected approximately 100 bags of trash. One young person collected anything unusual he found to create an art project.

Deercreek/Powder Springs Road

A resident of Deercreek has inquired about the status of improvements near her subdivision and expressed concern about speeding on Powder Springs Road. Since January 1, 2017, the police have issued 279 citations on Powder Springs Road with 113 of those between Hopkins and Sanders. The Police Department made note of the concern and will continue to monitor speed in this area. Cobb County is currently obtaining right of way needed for the improvements at Deercreek entrance. Once right of way is acquired and certified, construction will begin. The City and County will jointly submit an application for funding for improvements at the intersection of Flint Hill. The resident also expressed concern about storm drains that were blocked with pine needles and other debris, which impacted drainage. Public Works has
